Pinnacle Bank Announces Expansion into Salinas

Gilroy, CA – August 15, 2007 – Pinnacle Bank, with offices in Gilroy and Morgan Hill, today announced it has filed an application with the California Department of Financial Institutions and Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to open a branch in Salinas, California. It will be the bank's third branch. Plans for the branch are contingent upon the bank's identifying key staff for the branch, and receiving regulatory approval. Assuming regulatory approval, Pinnacle Bank anticipates opening the office in late 2007.

Commenting on the application, Pinnacle Bank President CEO David J. Funkhouser said, "When we organized the bank, we were pleased by the interest from individuals in the Salinas area who invested in our stock. We see this as an opportunity to bring our community banking services to businesses, professionals, individuals, developers, and commercial property owners in the Salinas area and to further accelerate our growth. We are excited about this opportunity and the level of support in the Salinas community."
